Ashby Galleries presents
THE ART OF TIM CANTOR

Born in the summer of 1960, Tim Cantor opened his eyes to a world destined to let his natural born artistic expression flourish. As a quiet child, he spent his waking hours absorbed with painting the enigmatic images that dominated his imagination. At the age of five, Tim inherited a box of oil paints and brushes from his Grandfather, had used during his travels throughout Europe and America. Implicitly understanding the beauty that these materials would allow him to create, the young boy immediately began painting with these very same supplies that his grandfather had used nearly a century earlier. By the age of fifteen, Tim Cantor had a painting acquired to hang in the White House, thanks to an immediate demand for his unusual talent. Leaving school at sixteen, Tim dedicated all of his time to painting and traveling the world, path from city to city, presenting his paintings in the most prestigious international venues. His work has hung side by side with many of the most renowned and historical artists of our era. Tim Cantor has spent his life from birth bringing his thoughts alive and holding them to the world's changing imagination. This persistent passion to his individuality has created a distinguished level of success throughout the world, including exclusive exhibitions in Athens, Tokyo, Singapore, Paris, New York, Beverly Hills, San Francisco... and now the love of this city has brought his art here, to San Diego.

On August 9th, 2000
they opened his thirty-first exhibition at the established Ashby Galleries in San Diego, California. Tim Cantor's name is now a household name.

Just had a very open and successful presidential election. Now professional protesters, incited by the media, are protesting. Very unfair!

Handwritten text in white ink, possibly a signature or name, written on a dark background. The text is highly stylized and difficult to decipher, but appears to contain the word "KAROL" or similar. The letters are formed with multiple overlapping loops and sharp angles. A dashed line is visible below the main text.

A photograph of a baby wearing a pink hippo hat. The baby has large, dark eyes and is looking towards the camera. A white speech bubble with a black outline is positioned to the right of the baby's head, containing the text "Did someone say Drag Queen?". In the bottom right corner, there is a red, heart-shaped object with a decorative, lace-like pattern.

You voted for Trump because Clinton was going to be in Wall Street's pocket. Trump wants to repeal Dodd-Frank and eliminate the Fiduciary Rule, letting Wall Street return to its pre-2008 ways.

You voted for Trump because of Clinton's emails. The Trump administration is running its own private email server.

You voted for Trump because you thought the Clinton Foundation was "pay for play." Trump has refused to wall off his businesses from his administration, and personally profits from payments from foreign governments.

You voted for Trump because of Clinton's role in Benghazi. Trump ordered the Yemen raid without adequate intel, and tweeted about "FAKE NEWS" while Americans died as a result of his carelessness.

You voted for Trump because Clinton didn't care about "the little guy." Trump's cabinet is full of billionaires, and he took away your health insurance so he could give them a multi-million-dollar tax break.

You voted for Trump because he was going to build a wall and Mexico was going to pay for it. American consumers will pay for the wall via import tariffs.

You voted for Trump because Clinton was going to get us into a war. Trump has provoked our enemies, alienated our allies, and given ISIS a decade's worth of recruiting material.

You voted for Trump because Clinton didn't have the stamina to do the job. Trump hung up on the Australian Prime Minister during a 5pm phone call because "it was at the end of a long day and he was tired and fatigue was setting in."

You voted for Trump because foreign leaders wouldn't "respect" Clinton. Foreign leaders, both friendly and hostile, are openly mocking Trump.

You voted for Trump because Clinton lies and "he tells it like it is." Trump and his administration lie with a regularity and brazenness that can only be described as shocking.

Let's be honest about what really happened.

The reality is that you voted for Trump because you got conned. Trump is a grifter and the American people were the mark. Now that you know the score, quit insisting the con-man is on your side.

As a teacher we already have such an awesome responsibility to care for these children, don't give me the responsibility of killing a student I very well could have had in class. This is just wrong on so many levels.

I'll say it louder for the folks in the back- the answer is NEVER more guns!

I just got this letter RE a newspaper job I applied for. I worked for over a decade at the @NewYorker and 7 years at the Chicago tribune, where I won the EIC's award for best writer of the year for my wide ranging features. My book is on a large number of best of lists. I am 57.

Hi Emily, thanks for applying for the open positions in Style. Unfortunately we are looking for people who have a broader range of experience and a significant number of years at a well-known publication. Keep writing! Good luck with your career.

Tao of Philosophy

By Alan Watts

In those moments when our inner turmoil has really quieted, we find significance in things that we would not expect to find significant at all. This is, after all, the art of those modern photographers who have shown genius in turning the camera towards peeling paint on an old door, or sand and stones on a dirt road, showing us that if we look at it in a certain way these things are significant. However, we cannot say they are significant “of what” so much as significant “of themselves.” Perhaps significance then is the quality of a state of mind in which we notice that we are overlooking the significance of the world by our constant quest for it later. All this language is of course quite naturally vague and imprecise because, I think, “significance” is the wrong word to use although it comes so naturally to us.
